

THE STORY OF A LIFE.

INCIDENTS RELATED BY COLONEL LANGMADE, OF SANDERSVILLE.

How He Saved His Vocation & a Doctor.—The Experience of a Copper Cent. A Session in the Legislature.—A Murderer's Reprieve Gained.—The Romantic Story of a Life, Etc.

SANDERSVILLE, Ga., January 22.—[Special.]—There is no man in Sandersville with whom those having spare moments can spend the same more pleasantly than with Colonel E. S. Langmade. There was a time when the colonel would have made a good physician—when, if he had been a practicing physician, he would have been a great boon to the city. It came about in this way: Mr. Rodriguez, son-in-law of Colonel Langmade, was seized with bleeding from the nose and mouth. For three days the bleeding was profuse. At the expiration of that time the physician in attendance and whom was the well-known Dr. John W. B. Burnett, of Atlanta, announced that every known remedy had been tried in vain, and that death was inevitable. After the departure of the physician, the colonel endeavored to roanish about the matter, and it occurred to him that that loss was caused by the breaking loose in some way of the small arteries and veins, and that being familiar with the properties of alum and tannin, it occurred to him to make a solution of these for injection up the nose. He succeeded, and was rewarded for his pains, to whom he announced the result of his reflections, which, after some time, was communicated to the doctor. The solution was prepared by the colonel, and results were instantaneous; and after many years there has been no return of bleeding.

Yours, etc., etc., etc., your son or your friends ever suffer from similar afflictions don't fail to try my alum and tannin."

ANOTHER SIMILAR CASE.

Speaking of another singular case that came under his observation, the colonel said: "I knew a young man who swallowed, by accident, a copper cent, which lodged how down in the throat. All efforts by physicians to dislodge the same proving ineffectual, and being fed by absorption of liquids, finally, after suffering with the obstruction in the throat for a year, the young man could not swallow a mouthful of food. It was found to be full of boils, supposed to have been caused by the acid of the sufferer's stomach."

AS TO SUDDEN DEATH.

Speaking of sudden deaths, the colonel said: "I never knew of but one case where the lower extremities were the seat of death. My eldest brother had at his home some beautiful pictures which were very gentle. One, apparently in perfect health, suddenly dropped in a flight around the house. We all presumed that the bird had been shot, and pinned up in the room, but on dissecting the body, it was found that death was caused by dropsy of the heart, which was enveloped in a watery sack about the size of a guinea."

SOME LEGISLATIVE EXPERIENCE.

Did you not represent this county in the legislature at one time?" asked your correspondent.

"Yes, I was there in 1851. Ben Hill was there and Dr. William M. Felton, both magnetic speakers. The quickest and liveliest work that I ever did in the legislature was in a case of murder in the first degree and sentenced by Herschel C. Johnson to be hung within the shortest time possible. A bill was introduced in the legislature for the pardon of Johnson of the offense of killing, or murder as it was called, but on dissecting the body it was found that death was caused by dropsy of the heart, which was enveloped in a watery sack about the size of a guinea."

THE CONVENTION OF UNION.

"I was the first person to introduce in the legislature a bill providing for compensation to jurors serving in our courts. I urged by my best friends here to hold up; that such a measure would ruin me, but it made my pleasure to be able to state that no act of mine has ever been more thoroughly endorsed by our people."

THE STORY OF A LIFE.

In many respects, Colonel Langmade is a remarkable man. He was born in Canada, where, at the age of 17, he was thrown from a horse, sustaining violent injury, which caused a permanent deformity of the left leg. He was compelled to hire a carriage to get about, but during this time was not idle, having by his own untiring efforts learned thoroughly the principles of surveying, which he practiced in the city of Atlanta, and on the comic side, which is as quick as lightning, made a number of his most favorable record, and the house is a model of neatness and symmetry."

BURN TO DEATH.

The Murderous Pursuit of a Wounded Man in Laurens County.

DURHAM, Ga., January 22.—[Special.]—A very unfortunate and tragic alteration occurred at Watkins' grocery, in Bumby district, on Saturday night, the 17th instant. The facts as we gathered them on the streets this morning are as follows: It seems that quite a crowd had assembled there, as in their wont on Saturday evening, to have a drunken powwow. A general discussion arose, participated in by George Thomas and Gus Watkins. There was a time when the colonel would have made a good physician—when, if he had been a practicing physician, he would have been a great boon to the city. It came about in this way: Mr. Rodriguez, son-in-law of Colonel Langmade, was seized with bleeding from the nose and mouth. For three days the bleeding was profuse. At the expiration of that time the physician in attendance and whom was the well-known Dr. John W. B. Burnett, of Atlanta, announced that every known remedy had been tried in vain, and that death was inevitable. After the departure of the physician, the colonel endeavored to roanish about the matter, and it occurred to him that that loss was caused by the breaking loose in some way of the small arteries and veins, and that being familiar with the properties of alum and tannin, it occurred to him to make a solution of these for injection up the nose. He succeeded, and was rewarded for his pains, to whom he announced the result of his reflections, which, after some time, was communicated to the doctor. The solution was prepared by the colonel, and results were instantaneous; and after many years there has been no return of bleeding."

Thomas cried out "For God's sake, boys, don't shoot me any more, I'm dying now!" Gus Watkins fired on him, before the appeal had escaped his lips, inflicting a very serious and ugly wound in his abdomen. Thomas's condition is extremely critical, and every moment is expected to be

BURNED TO DEATH.

The Terrible Death of an Old Lady Near Dalton.

DALTON, January 22.—[Special.]—A most horrible holocaust occurred this evening in this place. Mrs. Cleary, a widow lady and an invalid, aged about sixty years, was burned to death in her house, near the exchange factory.

The building was discovered to be on fire by parties near, who attempted an entrance to the house, but found it door securely locked, with the unfortunate victim in flames. No escape could be made.

The building was a double-room frame house. It was completely destroyed over the body of the lady.

A horrible spectacle met the gaze of all present when the fire had subsided sufficiently to search for the body, as only the trunk of the body could be found in a charred mass, evidently a victim of gross neglect, as was known to be an infirm old lady.

TROUP COUNTY'S PRISONERS.

Cruel Treatment in the Way of Accommodations.

LA GRANGE, Ga., January 22.—[Special.]—The court, recognized throughout Georgia as one of the wealthiest, most intelligent and influential counties in the state, is away behind the age in the care of its prisoners. Its treatment of them is a downright and disgraceful. They are not even confined in jail.

Those who have been through the scenes of murder in the first degree and sentenced by Herschel C. Johnson to be hung within the shortest time possible, can appreciate the condition of the犯人.

A. C. Speer, of Atlanta, who was tried for the murder of his wife, and sentenced to life imprisonment, is in the same condition as the犯人.

FIFTY YEARS, by Dr. A. L. Berry, an old citizen, especially in Female Troubles, was rewarded in the discovery of that certain and specific for woman troubles, Luxomil. Luxomil is a preparation that daily grows in popularity. Testimonials from responsible persons all the country furnish ample evidence of the useful power of Luxomil as a remedial agent in the relief and permanent cure of all those long conditions incident to females. Luxomil is especially adapted to troubles of pregnancy. It ameliorates the pains of child birth, stops labor, prevents after pains, and facilitates recovery. Owing to the strengthening and toning influence Luxomil relieves all MENSTRUAL IRREGULARITIES, and is a superior uterine sedative and tonic.

INDICATIONS, 1 a. m., for the South Atlantic states: partly cloudy weather, local rains, northeasterly winds, slightly warmer weather, falling barometer.

The American delegates to the Congo conference have fallen under the displeasure of a French newspaper man, who accuses them of being the "godfather" of the new African state.

CARTER HARRISON writes a letter in which he states that he is not a candidate for the senatorship from Illinois, but that, at the same time, he is in the hands of his friends, and will take whatever the democratic party gives him.

GOVERNOR JARVIS, of North Carolina, whose term has just closed, has made an admirable officer, taking advanced position in business and politics. So marked was the success of his administration that the legislature has passed a resolution recommending him to Cleveland as good cabinet timber.

The hottest no-whisky campaign ever waged in Georgia with the exception, perhaps, of the struggle in Bartow, is now in progress in Floyd. Both sides have organized thoroughly; the question is being debated in every militia district, and no stone will be left unturned which can enlighten or influence the voter.

LODGE "GUMMOI" is one of the heroes of New York society at present. He is the young man who was altogether too nice to fulfill his engagement of marriage with a pretty young actress, and found release by paying her fifty thousand dollars. As the young lady can support a husband on half the money, she will have a comfortable balance left.

The house committee on public health has decided that it is too late in the session to attempt such radical legislation as was suggested by the recent convention of health boards. An appropriation of half a million, however, will be recommended, with which to fight the advance of cholera, should it make its appearance before the next session of congress.

The governor of Texas, maddened by the regard which the federal government exhibits for commercial treaties and money making schemes, while citizens along the Mexican border are being killed by "Greasers," has given notice that Texas will hereafter protect herself. The federal soldiers, the governor believes, are only for show, and might as well be withdrawn from the state.

The frauds which are being developed in Chicago, in connection with the recent election, are of a colossal character. A local amendment, which involved the expenditure of a vast sum of money, was declared adopted, when, in fact, it had been defeated by a decided majority. As the Chicago ward politicians have had a good long training in republican election methods, such results were to be expected.

DEMOCRATIC DUTY.

A correspondent takes the trouble to suggest to us that our recent suggestions as to the proper policy to be pursued by the incoming administration with respect to the southern negroes were intended to be sarcastic. The correspondent evidently proceeds under the impression that it is too good to be true; but we think time will show that he is mistaken. We may say definitely that The CONSTITUTION was, and proposes to be very much in earnest in regard to the matter. Should our correspondent write to Waterson, of Kentucky, for information, he would probably be told that the sarcasm employed by The CONSTITUTION is not veiled, but coarse and inelegant, even vicious. Waterson is probably prejudiced, as it is natural he should be, but we are free to confess that when we do find it necessary or convenient to employ sarcasm we endeavor to do so with a certain provincial frankness, so to speak, that cannot be mistaken.

It was suggested that when the democratic party came into power, it would become its privilege to recognize the ambition of certain representative southern negroes who have betrayed a touching anxiety to hold office, and The CONSTITUTION maintained that the solid republican states of the north would afford a fine field for the exercise of this privilege. Our correspondent no doubt basis his interpretation of sarcasm on a casual allusion to the carpet-bag era when the republican party, then in the plenitude of its power and glory, sent its most brilliantly dissolute bummers to fill desirable offices in this section. But the allusion, as we have said, was merely casual. There is no negro of our acquaintance, or within our knowledge, who is not more reputable and self-respecting than these republican bummers who flock hitherward at the close of the war and proceed to take the practical management of affairs into their own hands. The policy of the democratic party, with respect to the appointment of worthy negroes in northern states that are solidly republican bears no sort of resemblance to the policy of the republicans in filling the federal offices of the south with ignorant white thieves and knaves who lorded it over the whites until the climate grew too warm for them, and who then proceeded to lord it over the negroes with considerable success.

The policy of the democratic party has nothing sinister in it. It is purely paternal. It distinctly recognizes the fact that the best and most intelligent representatives of the negro race ought to acquire some measure of official training, and it proposes to send them among those who profess to be their best friends in order that they may have all the sympathy and encouragement which such surroundings will give them. It is a policy, moreover, that would give hundreds of thousands of republicans the only opportunity they have ever had of giving practical direction to their theories of philanthropy and protection. There are a great many federal offices in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island that might be filled with worthy negroes, and we feel sure that the overwhelming republican population of those states would hall the appointment of negroes as an evidence that the democratic party is broadening its views, improving its intentions and progressing with the progress of the country. We are certain, moreover, that the negroes whom the democrats would name for the offices would prove themselves worthy of the confidence reposed in them.

The battle at Abu-Klea was fought on Saturday, and as General Stewart undoubtedly pushed forward before the Arabs could rally from defeat for another stand it is more than probable that he occupied, on Monday or Tuesday, Metamneh, and made good the part of the campaign allotted to him.

AN ESTEEMED CONTEMPORARY wants to know what will become of the New York stock exchange when the bank cashiers reform. Whether they will strike for higher game—the bank presidents, for instance.

THE DYNAMITARDS will please take notice that the Chicago editors are calling for elevated cars. Can't they be accommodated?

AN ATLANTA editor did a sensible and courteous thing the other day. A New Orleans letter to the Pittsburgh Times, stating that the Times-Democrat displayed the confederate flag on the opening day of the exposition, was reproduced in an early edition of the Boston Journal. The managing editor, as soon as he saw it, ordered it out of the later edition of the paper, as he was satisfied that the statement was false. This was very different from the course pursued by the editor of the Iowa State Register. That individual, after publishing the wild yarn about the confederate flag being displayed from Georgia's capitol building, never made any correction, although he had abundant testimony to convince him that the story was grossly and absurdly false. The Boston man shows off to find advantage by the side of his wild western contemporary.

THE MUNICIPAL ROTENNESS of New York city can be reformed if the newspapers will turn their attention to the matter. They have only to give a little less space to the society hostler and hostleress. CHICAGO wants her street cars warmed. When a Chicago girl's feet get cold the effect is felt in the atmosphere.

RECENT facts and figures in the Times-Democrat concerning the population of New Orleans will create considerable surprise. In a population of 250,000 there are seven white women to every six, white men, and four female to three male negroes. This is the largest excess of female population of any city in the union, not even excepting Boston. The death rate is very favorable to the gender sex. For the first half of January the deaths were, males, 186; females, 103. So it seems that in this remarkable city nine males die for every two females, and the death rate for the men is forty-six per thousand and for the women twenty-one. If nothing occurs to disturb this proportion in twenty years New Orleans will have two women for every man, and in a general sense will be so scarce that they too highly prized as ornaments to be of much service in the useful walks of life.

RECENT issues of the Chicago newspapers we are pleased to observe able editorials on Turkey and the Soudan. With the Chicago editor taking an interest in these matters we cannot but feel that all that we can do for a little job of their own.

POLITICAL NOTES.

GEORGE BANCROFT held a cabinet position longer ago than any man now living, and Jeff Davis, it is believed, comes next.

There are not many clear pointers as yet as to who will succeed Senator Blair, of New Hampshire, the legislature not meeting until next June.

THE COLORADO legislature is reported likely to pass a bill aimed at railway pooling, imposing a $50 fine upon any person trying to act as pool commissioner.

MASSACHUSETTS now pays its governor $5,000 a year. The salary was reduced to $4,000 in 1879, but was restored last year, to take effect with the beginning of 1885.

CHARLES BRADLAUGH, the English atheist, has issued an address to the electors of Northampton announcing himself once more a candidate for a seat in the house of commons.

THE "KID" and "mossback" division of Ohio democrats splits clear down through. They say that each faction has a candidate for every post-office in the state, and the fighting is everywhere bitter.

THE CANAL which Germany intends to construct to the north and Baltic seas is to be large enough to admit of the largest war vessels passing through it. It is estimated that the work will be completed in five years.

But little has been said about the candidacy of the Hon. R. T. Merrick for the attorney-general, though a vigorous fight is being made in his behalf. It has been developed that the trip of the Merrick to Mississippi, to Albany was in behalf of Mr. Merrick.

WILLIAM MAXWELL EVARTS, who is to succeed Senator Lapham next March, was born in Boston, February 6, 1818. Twenty-four years ago he was a candidate for United States senator, his competitors being Horace Greeley and Ira Harris, the latter of whom was elected.

GATE sends the following item to the Cincinnati Enquirer:—I understand that Beecher has written to Governor Cleveland protesting against the action of that official. Independent men in his cabin are on the ground that moment of them takes a big off to the senator.

FROM MACON.

NEWS OF THE DAY CONDENSED BY WYNTON.

A German—Ahead of Bill Britton—The W. & A Singular Accident—The Oil Well—The Women's Election—Personal and General Mention from the Central City.

January 22—[Special.]—The German humor of Miss Frankie Ford, of Augusta, social Thaïs club at Masonic hall, one of the nicest ever given in Macon, and some pretty figures, one of which was me before attempted in the city. It is of a circle formed, each dancer having a lantern lighted. As the figure was suddenly the gas was turned off, leaving out the variegated lines of the lanterns on the beautiful scene. In this light a few evolutions were made, causing a most effect. Among the gentlemen present was Ed Irvine, Eugene Harris, Pearson, Azel Freeman, Rowe H. Felton, Claude Hunt, Field Campberry, Dr. George Floyd, Charles Drew, Joe Blount, John Hope, Edward Mitchell, Floyd Ross, O. G. Sparks, John Den Battle, Den Jones, L. O. Stephens, Amman, Leon Wood, and W. H. Woodson, the young ladies present were Misses Ford, Sallie Fleming, Anna Peabody, Ann Lowe, Elsie Peck, Miss Thomas, Misses Jessie Braman, Fannie Bonner, Anna, Clara Dunlap, Lida Crane, Claude May, Lou Hunt, Daisy Huff, Mary Elizabeth, Anna, and Fannie Margham, Jessie, Emma Stewart, Ruth Simpson, Miss Stone and Mrs. Nat Wilson, who was seated by Mr. Stewart Jones.

The Macon Fire Department.

January 22—[Special.]—To-night a number of officers of the respective companies of the department was held at the engine house on America No. 3, to nominate a chief constable.

The meeting was called to order by George B. Turpin, chief pro tem.

All the members of the department, with the exception of the subvers of East Macon, No. 6, moved voters of the department was authorized to constitute a chief by-laws for the further carrying out of the constitution.

Captain K. Kennedy claimed to have been duly elected.

This brought forth a discussion of the constitution, and the election

now might the same rules govern as heretofore.

No. 5, moved that the twenty-seven

The Academy of Music will be thrown open first time.

The temperance evangelist on the programme is rich with attractions.

Atkins, the teacher of vocal music of the female voice, will appear before a

Macon audience.

He is reported to be one of rare sweethearts.

Mr. Wels, who is a great favorite with of music in this city, will sing.

Misses Thomas, Mr. S. Lowry, Mr. R. D.

and Professor Guttenberg's orchestra in the hall of the union have arranged for the to be one of pleasure. It will doubtless be success.

Ahead of Bill Britton.

Macon, January 22—[Special.]—Charlton Davis, the Macon beamer, comes to front to-day with a dory and a long pole, of Athens.

He has a small dog that will

in his hind legs and when he lays an egg,

the ceremony will take it away and eat

he does throughout the day. Yesterday he paid him to go to the city and he ima small den, lay by him in

by. They understood each other very and would watch the horses together.

The were to meet him and when he came to him companion who would eat them. He wife, and everybody in the lot, saw the

BETTER THAN GAS.

A New Illumination That is Rapidly Gaining Favor.

One of the notable features of the work done
last year by the city authorities was the introduction of a substitute for gas on many of the suburban streets where it would have been too expensive to lay gas mains. The lamps the city contracted for is the new and improved gasoline street lamp, introduced here by Thomas Kirke & Co., 305 Peachtree.

A man from New York saw Mr. Kirke yesterday, and remarked,

"I notice the lamps you put in are much cleaner than they used to be."

"Yes, they have a new burner—one that never uses a wick, and is far superior to the kerosene lamp ever made."

"Are they safer than kerosene?"

"Yes, much safer, and gives a better light, even, than gas. The lamps are safe, even when many cities gas has been suspended and this substituted. For brilliancy and power it surpasses gas, and the light is clear and powerful and in speed and size it is far superior to a gas lamp, only larger. It can be used as desired, and can be used at a cost of three or four cents a lamp per month, and is far superior to the public many years. Recently the burner has been much improved, a committee of experts in Boston, and a lamp made a light that burns over all the gas lamps in the city of Atlanta, and tried fifty of the new gasoline street lamps in 1883; and the new ones are far superior to the old, and is about to increase the number."

"Are you interested in them elsewhere?"

"Yes, they have been sold in many Georgia towns and cities. They are now in use in Conyers, Lawrence, Newnan, Carrollton, Gratville, Gainesville, Fairburn, Cedartown and other towns. The lamps are far superior to the kerosene lamps last year, and have been in use and adopted here. We received an order this week from New Orleans for twenty-seven street lamps, and one order is coming in every day from other cities."

"Are they cheap?"

"Yes, they are a few cents each night. The cost is merely nominal, and they will finally be used everywhere."

"I should say so. Our stores were awarded the gold medal at the cotton exposition in Atlanta, and are rapidly taking the place of the wood and gas lamps. The lamps are safe, and give a range and without soot, smoke or wicks. No soot to bother with, store is always ready, can be used in any place, and is far superior to a gas lamp, only larger. It can be used as desired, and can be used at a cost of three or four cents a lamp per month, and is far superior to the public many years. Recently the burner has been

"The Globe Rink."

The popularity into which roller skating has grown was evidenced last night by the unusually large crowd at the Globe rink on Forsyth street.
There were some interesting features presented, among them the playing of a little girl on the rink, she being only four years old. The crowd was unthinned, and did remarkably well. The racing was very amusing. It is a pleasure to note the increasing interest in skating.
